次は、カナが英語の授業で行ったスピーチである。英文を読んで、各問いに答えなさい。

Last week, our ALT, Bob said to us, “When I came to Japan, I didn’t know any Japanese words, but now I can write all of your names in hiragana.” I think that he has studied a new language very hard, just like my grandfather.

My grandfather studies English every day. When he became sixty, he stopped working. Then, he remembered his school days and wanted to study English again. So, he bought a few dictionaries, a diary, and the textbook for an English *conversation program on TV. At first, he was only able to write a little English in his diary. However, he practiced writing English words every day, and watched the TV program every week.

A few months later, one evening, he said *happily to me, “Today I spoke English with a woman from a foreign country on the street. I told her the way to the museum, and she understood me.”

Now my grandfather is sixty-seven years old. He keeps writing in his diary, enjoys the English conversation program, and sometimes shows people from other countries around my town. I am sure my grandfather will be happy to meet our teacher, Bob.

* (注) conversation program : 会話の番組 happily : うれしそうに
